

Berkshire Hathaway Specialty Insurance is a proud sponsor of The Center for Harm Response

The Center for Harm Response is the nation's leading nonprofit dedicated to transforming organizational responses to harm from healthcare. Founded by experts with both lived experience of healthcare harm and deep professional and research expertise, The Center for Harm Response convenes healthcare organizations, clinicians, leaders, patients, families, insurers, and legal professionals to design and implement communication and reconciliation programs (CRP) that support healing, rebuild trust, and improve healthcare.

CRPs ARE INTEGRAL TO PATIENT SAFETY AND QUALITY PRACTICES.

DELIVERING MEASURABLE RISK MANAGEMENT RESULTS

BHSI works in partnership with our customers and brokers to advance risk management, patient safety and quality. BHSI's partnership approach provides customers with choices and flexibility to engage services tailored to their needs. We extend best-in-class experts and resources to support customers on a wide range of initiatives, from achieving their goals in risk management, training and education, to assessing specialized clinical areas.

ADVANCING COMMUNICATION AND RECONCILIATION PROGRAMS

The Center helps providers and healthcare organizations move from awareness to action by building the systems, skills, and consistency needed to respond to harm events with accountability, compassion, and transparency. Available support includes a comprehensive year-long virtual Collaborative, on-site harm communication training, a leadership intensive, and customized coaching and consulting.
